Please note: because the accreditation of post-master's social work fellowship programs is currently being piloted, and only a limited number of programs were selected to participate in the pilot, many quality post-master's social work fellowship programs are in existence that have not yet had an opportunity to seek accreditation. The COA, FRC, and CSWE staff are currently evaluating the pilot findings and the capacity to expand the pilot initiative to include additional programs.

Please reach out to fellowship@cswe.org with post-master's fellowship accreditation questions you may have.
