

FAQ:

GEN SILENT

When is the DVD available for purchase?

Gen Silent will be available for purchase for library and instructional use in mid- 2011

How can I show the film now?

You can rent it. People in a wide variety of fields ranging from social work educators to community centers and estate planning attorneys are already renting Gen Silent to show to their groups.

Press the group screening button at <http://gensilent.com/>

How long is Gen Silent?

63 minutes. A shorter version to fit easily as part of an instructional hour will be available in mid-2011.

What about fundraising with Gen Silent?

As fundraising partners, we would love it. "Gen Silent" has great success partnering with not-for-profit organizations to create fundraising/awareness screenings and events. The proceeds are shared to help us both continue our important work. Our development folks are glad to discuss it with you. Click on the "group screening" button at <http://gensilent.com/>

Are people who are in the film available to speak?

Yes. Group screenings are even more successful when members of the cast and crew are present often with a panel discussion including local experts. Audiences walk away with a much greater understanding of the issue and what's being done in their community to address it.

Will there be a training curriculum with Gen Silent?

Yes. In mid-2011. We welcome your suggestions: <http://gensilent.com/> and on our Facebook page: <http://www.facebook.com/pages/Gen-Silent/>

How do I get people to understand what I saw?

The trailer speaks louder than words. Send them a link:
