welcome

to the 2019 Annual Program Meeting!

Sankofa is a word in the Twi language of Ghana that translates to “Go back and get it.” The symbol often used for this word is a bird with its head turned backward, symbolizing the value of taking from the past what is good and bringing it into the present to build that knowledge into our future for continued progress.

It seems fitting to bring this concept into our awareness as we embrace the theme for this year’s Annual Program Meeting, “Social Work Education: Looking Back, Looking Forward.” This focus presents wonderful opportunities for us to remember with gratitude those who contributed to the professionalization of social work through a commitment to quality social work education. We owe a great debt to a legion of visionaries. The theme also encourages us to think about what the future may hold and how we might respond to those opportunities and challenges. It is more typical for an organization to pause and reflect on its past and future at the time of a milestone anniversary. Although 2019 marks no such anniversary for CSWE or for social work education, this simply seems like the right time to do this thinking together.

CSWE launched a Futures Task Force in 2017 to help us imagine what the future of the profession might be in 10 years or so and to help us think strategically about how social work education might need to adjust to meet that future. Things change at such a fast pace that 2017 already seems like a long time ago. It is clear that peeking at our future should become a habit, a place we visit frequently to ensure we stay vital and relevant, and that we are helping our students be the same. Are we, a profession of change agents, willing to look inward and change ourselves? We believe that a great deal depends on how we respond to that question. Let’s ensure that when we “look forward,” social work has a prominent place in our society to facilitate and lead change.

This year’s conference offers some great examples of innovation in teaching and learning that we have all come to expect. And interspersed throughout these educational sessions will be opportunities that invite us to collectively consider how we might respond to the future. Thank you in advance for your generosity in sharing your ideas and participating in the conversation as we imagine what our future might hold.

In the spirit of Sankofa, enjoy the conference!

The year 2019 marks 400 years since the first documented arrival of Africans in the United States—an important milestone in our shared history.

At the Brown School, we honor it by reflecting on the past and promoting continued momentum towards racial equity through applied research and social policy.

Opening Plenary Session

Michael J. Sorrell, EdD

Paul Quinn College

Thursday, October 24,
6:30 pm–7:30 pm

Grand Ballroom, Tower Building (Sheraton Denver Downtown Hotel)

Michael J. Sorrell, EdD, is the 34th president of Paul Quinn College in Dallas, Texas. Under his leadership, the college is experiencing one of the greatest turnarounds in the history of higher education and is regularly mentioned nationally as one of the most innovative schools in America. An attorney and former White House staffer, Dr. Sorrell brought a bold new vision to the college, focusing on academic rigor, experiential learning, and entrepreneurship. He also pioneered what he named the “urban work college model,” based on Paul Quinn College’s dramatic success. When Dr. Sorrell took the helm as college president in 2007, enrollment had been declining for more than 5 years and the college was close to being shut down. Today, it is considered a shining model of urban education and most years, has a waiting list. With a rallying cry of “WE Over Me,” and a mission to end poverty, Dr. Sorrell led both a movement and a total transformation.

Dr. Sorrell has received numerous awards and recognition for his civic and educational leadership. He is the only three-time recipient of the HBCU President of the Year award and was named one of America’s 10 Most Innovative College Presidents. He also received Rev. Jesse Jackson Sr.’s and PUSH/Excel’s Education Leadership Award. Dr. Sorrell received a BA from Oberlin, a JD and an MA in Public Policy from Duke University, and an EdD from the University of Pennsylvania.

Sponsored by

THE UNIVERSITY OF UTAH

Dr. Sorrell’s speech will focus on the future and need for innovation in higher education and its impact on social work education.

Hokenstad International Lecture

Annamaria Campanini, PhD

Università Milano Bicocca; president, International Association of Schools of Social Work

Annamaria Campanini

International Organizations: Building Capacity and Representing Social Work
Education Globally

Saturday, October 26,
8:45 am–10:15 am

Grand Ballroom, Tower Building (Sheraton Denver Downtown Hotel)

Sponsored by

Dr. Campanini’s research and her professional activities show her deep interest and expertise in social work education at the international level. Her speech will include a brief historical review with emphasis on current and future issues, priorities for strengthening social work education, and ensuring the voice of social work is heard internationally.

The Hokenstad International Lecture series was launched in 2007 through an endowment from M. C. “Terry” Hokenstad, a former president and long-time member of CSWE. The program enhances and complements the work of the Katherine A. Kendall Institute for International Social Work Education and CSWE’s Commission on Global Social Work Education.

The Partners in International Education Awards will be presented at 8:45 am, immediately preceding the lecture.

others (e.g., Abraham Flexner) to that of fostering our own self determination as well as “getting out of the way” of our constituents who are working on their own liberation. It will contextualize some of the key terms in current social justice discussion (allyship, advocacy, empowerment, oppression) as they relate to social justice liberation as well as the term social justice liberation and why it is important now more than ever for social work educators.

The Carl A. Scott Memorial Lecture Series recognizes Carl Anderson Scott’s groundbreaking contributions to CSWE and the profession of social work. This lecture was established to honor and continue his legacy of equity and social justice in social work through building knowledge and furthering the well-being of individuals and their communities.

2019 APM session overview

Competitive Peer-Reviewed Formats and Tracks

Most of the conference program consists of competitively selected presentations in a variety of educational formats. These presentations were selected through a blind peer-review process from proposals submitted in response to the 2019 APM Calls for Proposals. Competitive papers are presented in one of four educational formats:

1. Electronic Poster (60 minutes)
2. Interactive Workshop (60 minutes)

Continuing Education Credits

The Council on Social Work Education (CSWE), provider 1163, is approved as a provider for social work continuing education by the Association of Social Work Boards (ASWB) (www.aswb.org) through the Approved Continuing Education (ACE) Program. CSWE maintains responsibility for the program. The ASWB Approval Period is January 23, 2018–January 23, 2021. Contact your regulatory board to determine course approval for continuing education credits.

As an ACE provider, CSWE offers continuing education (CE) credits for eligible conference session formats. Each session must meet strict standards to be approved for CE credits. The following formats meet the ASWB's ACE standards for CE eligibility.

Eligible Preconference Workshops (October 23–24, 2019)

- Leadership Development Institute (up to 3.0 contact hours)
- Integrative Approaches for the Future of Social Work Education (up to 4.0 contact hours)
- Field Education Institute (up to 4.5 contact hours)
- Teaching Institute for Early Career Faculty (up to 6 contact hours)

CE-Eligible Educational Session Formats (October 25–27, 2019)

- Interactive Workshop (1.0 contact hour)
- Panel (1.0 contact hour)
- Oral Presentation (1.0 contact hour)

Credit is awarded at 1.0 contact hour per 60-minute session (50 minutes of uninterrupted instruction). Please note that although ACE provider CE credits are accepted by most U.S. state licensing boards, the final authority for approving any continuing education activity rests with the social work board of the state where you are licensed. Even states that accept ACE approval may have exceptions in terms of the courses they accept.

PROCESSING FEE

An additional fee of $65 is assessed for CE credit processing to cover collecting and organizing session data, registering and tracking participants, and administering certificates. CE fees are nonrefundable.

ATTENDANCE TRACKING

Attendees must be present for the duration of each session to earn credit. New for 2019: Attendees will verify their attendance via self-attestation on each session evaluation form.

CERTIFICATE ISSUANCE

To receive a certificate, attendees must create an account with the 2019 APM personal scheduler. Once an account is created, attendees will complete a session evaluation form for each eligible session attended. The system will automatically generate a downloadable certificate populated with the attendee name, sessions attended, and contact hours earned.

SIGNIFICANT LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT IN SOCIAL WORK EDUCATION AWARD

The Significant Lifetime Achievement in Social Work Education Award is presented to Dr. Iris Carlton-LaNey. Dr.

Carlton-LaNey is the Berg-Beach Distinguished Professor of Community Social Work at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. She received her bachelor's degree in social work from North Carolina A&T State University, where the complex themes of inclusivity and social justice were nurtured.

She received her AM in social work from the University of Chicago and her PhD from the University of Maryland at Baltimore.

Her research interests include aging issues and African American social welfare history. Dr. Carlton-LaNey has several books to her credit, including Preserving and Strengthening Small Towns and Rural Communities (with Edwards & Reid) and African American Leadership: An Empowerment Tradition in Social Welfare History. In 2003 she was the recipient of the Council on Social Work Education's (CSWE's)

Distinguished Recent Contributions in Social Work

Dr. Iris Carlton-LaNey

Education Award. In 2010 she received the National Association of Black Social Workers' Distinguished Achievement in Social Work Education Award. In 2011 the CSWE Women's Council named her the Feminist Scholarship Honoree, and the Sisters of the Academy (SOTA) presented her with their inaugural Legacy Award. In 2012 the University of Maryland at Baltimore School of Social Work identified Iris as one of its 50 Heroes for Justice, and in 2015 the National Association of Social Workers named her a Social Work Pioneer. North Carolina Governor Roy Cooper appointed Dr. Carlton-LaNey to the North Carolina Social Services Commission in 2017, and NASW-NC selected her as the 2018 Social Worker of the Year. Dr. Carlton-LaNey is committed to social work education that reflects the critical responsibility we have to take action for social justice.

DISTINGUISHED RECENT CONTRIBUTIONS TO SOCIAL WORK EDUCATION AWARD

The Distinguished Recent Contributions to Social Work Education Award is presented to Rocío Calvo. Recognized as a leading scholar in the field of immigration and social welfare, Dr. Calvo has developed a body of work on the role of social service provision in the integration of immigrants that has become a model of positive disruption in social work. Dr. Calvo's observation that Latinx immigrants value the quality of their interactions with providers of services as much as the specific services they receive led to the creation of the Latinx Leadership Initiative (LLI) in 2013. The LLI reimagines social work education, research, and practice by positioning the cultural assets of Latinx populations at the center of social work practice and scholarship. Since its foundation, the LLI has prepared more than 100 bilingual and bicultural MSW students and five doctoral candidates to work with Latinx communities toward sustainable solutions for complex problems.

SERVICE AND LEADERSHIP IN SOCIAL WORK EDUCATION AWARD

The Service and Leadership in Social Work Education Award is presented to Terry Mizrahi and Robert Vernon.

Terry Mizrahi, PhD, MSW, is a professor at the Silberman School of Social Work at Hunter College of the City University of New York, where she co-chairs the Special Commission to Advance Macro Practice in Social Work and the National Social Work Voter Mobilization Campaign.

Dr. Terry Mizrahi

Dr. Mizrahi was co-editor-in-chief of the Encyclopedia of Social Work (20th edition) and authored several articles on health policy and health-care reform. She has written five books and monographs and 70 articles, book chapters, reviews, and manuals. Her book Getting Rid of Patients: Contradictions in the Socialization of Physicians (Rutgers University Press, 1986) was a groundbreaking work on the training of internal medicine house staff. She currently is working on a sequel.

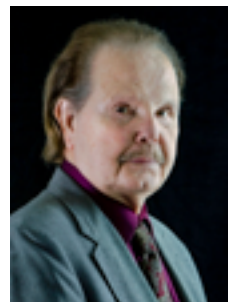

Dr. Mizrahi has done extensive research and training on coalition building and interprofessional collaboration between physicians and social workers and a study on the role of gender and organizing. She served as president of the National Association of Social Workers (NASW) from 2001–2003 and is a founder of ACOSA’s

Journal of Community Practice. Dr. Mizrahi has been designated as an NASW Pioneer.

She received the Hunter Presidential Awards for Excellence in Applied Research and in Community Leadership. In 2004 she won the Career Achievement Award from ACOSA and was inducted into Columbia University School of Social Work’s Alumni Hall of Fame. She completed a Fulbright Fellowship in Israel in 2006 and continues to train and consult there with academic and professional leaders.

Dr. Mizrahi is a current and founding board member of the Child Welfare Organizing Project, a grassroots advocacy group of parents and professionals working to reform the child welfare system.

Dr. Robert Vernon developed three social work programs from start-up. He joined CSWE in 1978 and brought the BSW program at Keuka College through its first accreditation. Later, Dr. Vernon brought the BSW program at the University of Indianapolis through successful accreditation. CSWE asked him to disseminate his development work as a model for other programs. Recently, he and colleagues developed the completely online MSW Direct at Indiana University. Dr. Vernon has uniquely contributed to social work education by continually sharing information that helps other programs develop creditable degrees.

One of Dr. Vernon’s strengths is technology. Elected to the CSWE Board of Directors in 1999, he started and organized its Committee on Technology. This was at the crucial time when programs were first exploring online degrees. Then elected to the CSWE Commission on Accreditation, he started and organized its Committee on Research and Information Technology. This was substantial leadership at a major turning point in social work education.

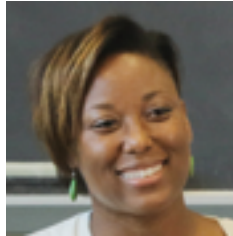

Dr. Vernon has always been passionate about telling people of the magic of social work. He produced two posters highlighting our profession. “The Power of Social Work,” created by Dr. Vernon and his students

Our faculty is constantly innovating.
They conduct groundbreaking research and

Nabila El-Bassel received the University's highest honor, a University Professorship. She was also awarded the largest NIH grant in Columbia's history, focused on reducing opioid deaths in New York State.

Courtney Cogburn co-leads an effort to renew a foundational course on power, race, oppression, and privilege using virtual reality technology.

Desmond Patton conducts pioneering research on the use of social media and artificial intelligence in studies of community-based violence.

Allen Zweben offers novel training in Motivational Interviewing to all first-year MSW students.

Kathy Shear provides training to hundreds of practitioners in the treatment of complicated grief.

Neeraj Kaushal examines the validity of the populist critique of the U.S. immigration system in her new book, Blaming Immigrants: Nationalism and the Economics of Global Movement.

Committed to supporting communication between colleagues, Dr. Vernon is the owner of the BPD, MSW, and Distance Education list servers. He co-organized two national conferences on distance education and was actively involved in setting U.S. national standards for using technology in practice.

COMMUNITY IMPACT AWARD

The Community Impact Award recognizes community praxis that is shaped through the process of social work education and exemplifies the values of feminist leadership models in social work education. The 2019 award recipient is Black Mamas Community Collective (BMCC) of Austin, Texas. Guided by a feminist leadership model and led by consensus, the BMCC seeks to transform maternal health outcomes for Black women. The awardee will be recognized by the CSWE Council on the Role and Status of Women at the annual Feminist Networking Breakfast, Saturday, October 26, 7:00 am–8:30 am in the Majestic Ballroom, Tower Building (Sheraton Denver Downtown Hotel).

COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIP AWARD

The Community Partnership Action Award honors the contributions of schools and departments of social work and social work students (BSW, MSW, PhD) in advancing community partnership action. Community is broadly defined as a self-organized network of people with a common agenda, cause, or interest and is not limited by physical locality.

Dr. Suk-hee Kim (Northern Kentucky University) is the recipient of the Student Project award. The Ohio State University (OSU) College of Social Work and Age-Friendly are the recipients of the Social Work Program award. In late 2017, Age-Friendly moved to the OSU College of Social Work. Aligning with the college’s strategic plan, the Age-Friendly initiative builds on the values of engaging with community partners to bring evidence-informed interventions to local neighborhoods.

Near the Sheraton Denver Downtown is the 16th Street Mall; a free shuttle bus runs the length of the mall. This area is home to some of the most popular places to visit in Denver, such as Union Station and the LoDo Historic District.

The Colorado State Capitol can be reached in minutes on foot from all APM hotels, and free tours are available on weekdays. A climb to the rotunda shows a panorama of the snowcapped peaks surrounding the city.

The Denver Art Museum is made up of two architecturally stunning buildings, one a fortress-like structure from Italian architect Gio Ponti and the other a structure that resembles a titanium crystal with peaks and shards designed by Daniel Libeskind. Inside, find a large collection of Native American art and 68,000 other art objects, including works from European masters, Old West classics, and traveling exhibits.

Emergency, Life Safety, and Medical Assistance

In the event of a medical or other emergency, contact Hotel Security by picking up any house phone in the Meeting Space or Public Areas. You will be connected to the hotel switchboard; ask them to contact Security. If you are in your hotel room, press the Emergency button on a guest room telephone and you will be connected immediately to 24/7 Security Dispatch.

Emergency exits in the hotel have illuminated signs. In the event of an emergency, the enunciator system will alert guests and provide direction. In the event of an evacuation, guests should exit the building via the nearest fire exit and make their way to the nearby Civic Center Park, which is the hotel “rally” point. In the event of a tornado the enunciator system will direct guests to the hotel levels below ground or to areas away from any flying glass and debris.

If medical assistance is required, the hotel has first responders onsite who are trained in first aid/CPR/AED/oxygen delivery. These first responders are available 24/7. AED and oxygen are also available at four locations in the hotel: Security, beside Front Desk in the Plaza Lobby, and in the Fitness Center and Club Lounge.

LEARNING TO TEACH, TEACHING TO LEARN

A Guide for Social Work Field Education

3rd Edition

By Jeanne Bertrand Finch, Ovita F. Williams, Jacqueline B. Mondros, & Cheryl L. Franks

“Refreshingly and just in time, this third edition of Learning to Teach, Teaching to Learn, unabashedly tackles and centers the role of justice in social work field education. . . . Notably, the authors move toward calling us in—to examine how power and privilege plays out in our relationships. Additionally, they provide cogent guidelines for engaging in challenging dialogues with openness and compassion and an eye toward building stronger justice-grounded practitioners, educators, and policy makers.”—KARINA L. WALTERS,
University of Washington

Building on the first and second editions of Learning to Teach, Teaching to Learn, this substantially revised text maintains the commitment to support field instructors in their task of educating students while also addressing current issues confronting social work field education. In addition to updating case scenarios and adding educational tools throughout the text, this edition provides resources to help field instructors apply practice competencies in their teaching. The authors introduce a justice-based framework for field education that centers challenging dialogues on diversity-related content in supervision as a foundation to undoing racism and oppressive practices. The aim is to enable field instructors and students to identify issues of diversity, difference, and oppression in their practice; apply their understanding; and progress in their abilities to advance justice.

Learning to Teach, Teaching to Learn

A Guide for Social Work Field Education, 3rd Edition

By Jeanne Bertrand Finch, Ovita F. Williams, Jacqueline B. Mondros, & Cheryl L. Franks

Building on the first and second editions of Learning to Teach, Teaching to Learn, this substantially revised text maintains the commitment to support field instructors in their task of educating students while also addressing current issues confronting social work field education. In addition to updating case scenarios and adding educational tools throughout the text, this edition provides resources to help field instructors apply practice competencies in their teaching. The authors introduce a justice-based framework for field education that centers challenging dialogues on diversity-related content in supervision as a foundation to undoing racism and oppressive practices. The aim is to enable field instructors and students to identify issues of diversity, difference, and oppression in their practice; apply their understanding; and progress in their abilities to advance justice.

Teaching Group Work Content in Social Work Education

By Dominique Moysé Steinberg

Group work is used increasingly in the field even as education for it declines, leaving many instructors required to teach the subject without sufficient training. This book fills the gap by providing a framework for teaching essential method content over one semester or integrating central content into an existing practice class. Each chapter begins with references to the EPAS competencies addressed; chapter-based bibliographies make further reading easily accessible. Along with adding fresh concepts, examples, and work materials, this book also includes up-to-date content on emerging models, planning, evidence, and conflict. Dr. Dominique Steinberg has taught practice, research, and professional writing for nearly 40 years at New York University, Hunter College, Smith College, and Simmons University.

264 pp | ISBN 978-0-87293-175-6 | $45.00, retail; $40.50, CSWE members

A Guide for Interprofessional Collaboration

Edited by Aidyn L. Iachini, Laura R. Bronstein, and Elizabeth Mellin

A Guide for Interprofessional Collaboration helps students and practitioners develop the skills necessary to engage in interprofessional collaborative practice. Edited by leading researchers, the workbook uses Bronstein's Model of Interdisciplinary Collaboration as a framework. Case examples, practice tips, and multimedia links make this workbook a useful tool for traditional, hybrid, and online courses, as well as for independent learning and continuing education.

Activating a Teaching-Learning Philosophy

A Practical Guide for Educators

By Erlene Grise-Owens, J. Jay Miller, and Larry W. Owens

This "highly readable and engaging" book provides a structured framework for developing a comprehensive teaching-learning philosophy from articulation through implementation to evaluation—and then reactivation. Using professional literature and teaching-learning experiences, the authors provide pragmatic steps for using a grounded philosophy to inform, engage, and assess teaching-learning.

Teaching Social Work With Digital Technology

By Laurel Iverson Hitchcock, Melanie Sage, and Nancy J. Smyth

Hailed as "badly needed" and "a comprehensive roadmap," this book helps social work educators make pedagogically sound, rational, practical, and ethical decisions about integrating technology into their social work programs and across the curriculum. It covers a range of essential topics and teaching environments and includes case studies, practical examples, and checklists.

TEACHING GROUP WORK CONTENT IN SOCIAL WORK EDUCATION

By Dominique Moyses Steinberg

Building on the foundation laid in Teaching a Methods Course in Social Work With Groups by Roselle Kurland and Robert Salmon (CSWE Press, 1998), this book provides a guide to teaching social work with groups. Group work is used increasingly in the field even as its education declines, leaving many instructors required to teach the subject without sufficient training. This book fills the gap by providing a framework for teaching essential method content over one semester as well as integrating central content into an existing practice class. This book adds to the earlier volume in three significant ways. First, it elaborates on existing content with additional concepts, examples, and work materials. Second, it integrates content somewhat differently; for example, group-based and individual problem solving are presented in one chapter, making their comparison easier. It also begins each chapter with references to EPAS competencies addressed and offers a chapter-based bibliography, making the recommended further reading easily accessible. Finally, it adds large pieces of new content in several areas, including emerging models, planning, evidence, and conflict.
